Chapter 1:

2 Khrushchev wanted peace; Castro didn't during the Bay of Pigs

Castro planned attacks on U.S. military bases

America had two generals who claimed, "Cuba was no longer a threat", Cuba responded with Fidel claiming to want to bring America to its knees. Also, Cuba was a major drug trafficker

Fidel was invited to a celebrity-studded dinner from David Rockefeller

Five thousand killed between Che and Fidel

14 Fidel destroyed the sugar, tobacco, and cattle industries

Castro Bonnie weird

Chapter 2:

Five times the prison population as Batista

20 Castro was very smart, Che was afraid of Castro

When Khrushchev took away the missiles, Castro went crazy: kicking walls, smashing glasses, and breaking windows and mirrors

"Kennedy goofed the invasion and praised Castro"-Richard Nixon

Khrushchev said it would have been ridiculous to go to war over Cuba; Khrushchev got what he wanted along with a promise not to invade Cuba from JFK and Lyndon B. Johnson

The USA had to prevent any invasions in the western hemisphere.

Kennedy was not serious with the invasion. JFK backed off to prevent war with Soviets during the Bay of Pigs. The Bay of Pigs got canceled, innocent people died.

Chapter 3:

Castro killed a prize bull of someone's

In 1958 Cuban famers made $3.00 a day versus France $2.73, Belgium's $2.70, Denmark $2.74, West Germany $2.73, and United States $4.06

The problem with Cuba was hookers, gambling, and being a "U.S. colony"

Only 5% of invested capital was in Cuba was American, less than one third of sugar output was owned by America. Cuba had a grand total of nine gambling casinos. More Cubans vacationed in America than American vacationing in Cuba.

The food rationing for slaves was 8 and 2 oz for chicken meat and fish. Rice was 4 to 3 oz. Starches was 16 to 6.5 oz. Beans was 4 to 1 oz.

Castro didn't like independents

40% of the prison population is 82% black and 0.8% of the Communist party is black

Che called himself Stalin II

Chapter 4:

The evidence against Castro selling drugs is more convincing than Manuel Noriega

Hundreds of millions of dollars in the Cuban drug trade

Chapter 5:

55 Cuba segregated blacks

The embargo against Cuba was a joke; Cuba remained number 6 in trade with the U.S.

20% of Cubans left Cuba

Chapter 6:

Che was a coward

Chapter 7:

75 Che was a coward and never involved himself in guerrilla warfare. Che was motivated by pure hate. Che smelled terrible

Chapter 8:

Castro only liked people who were anti American, this included capitalists

Castro quoted the bible for paying taxes, but everything was Caesars

Most of Batista's soldiers were black

Castro would steal from rich people who elected him leaving them with nothing

Chapter 9:

Lee Harvey Oswald was allegedly a Cuban spy

There was no war with Batista; it had lasted for two years

Chapter 10:

109 Michael Moore called people who fled Cuba "a bunch of wimps"

One of every nineteen was a political prisoner of Castro's

Proof was secondary in Castro's courts

Chapter 11:

122 America had total air superiority on Cuba but never used it

JFK did the Bay of Pigs for pride

Chapter 12:

Havana is now the child sex capital of the world

Castro sent thousands of killers, psychopaths, and perverts when the travel ban was listed

President Ford and Ronald Reagan were to be taken out at a republican national convention in San Francisco

156 Cuba has the highest incarceration rates and the lowest press and freedom indexes

Chapter 13:

Batista was wrongfully painted as a white man

Castro sent a man to 20 years in jail for being in a fight with him in high school

Castro fired off bullets in the distance and let his comrades get close to the action

Castro used nerve gas in the fight for Angola

Chapter 15:

Elian Gonzalez father intended to immigrate to America

Fidel Castro has the most assassination attempts at 638.

The author is a humble man